SUBJECT: Welcome Back to School

As schools are commencing the 2005-06 school year, the Resource Center (RC) at the California Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs (ADP) would like to say "Welcome Back"! In addition, we would like to take this opportunity to offer you materials on alcohol, tobacco and other drugs (ATOD) for your school library, classrooms, or activities such as health fairs, parent's night, Parent-Teacher Association meetings, and Red Ribbon events.

The RC maintains a comprehensive collection of ATOD prevention and treatment information. This information is provided through a Clearinghouse, a Library, Internet communication links at www.adp.ca.gov, and a telephone information and referral service. All services are available at no cost to residents of California.

ADP is committed to reach out to those who educate our youth so that we can further alert teachers, students and parents about the dangers of underage alcohol and other drug use. Only through sustained and cooperative efforts between schools, parents, and students can we begin to solve this problem. If you are considering hosting a school event or can use materials in the classroom, the RC can help by providing no-cost, hand-out literature. Enclosed is a Publications Order Form with a list of publications that may be ordered by U.S. mail, fax (916) 323-1270, or e-mail at ResourceCenter@adp.ca.gov.

If you need assistance, or have questions, please call 1-800-879-2772.

Sincerely,
